- Q7 How many options can i exercise? Is there any restriction on the options?
- A There is no restriction on the no. of options, you can exercise as many as you can, but take care of the priority of options other wise you may get allotted to an option which is not really interested to you. Once allotted you cannot do anything, you have to accept. Hence, you have to take utmost care while exercising the options and prioritising them.
- Q8 I am attending counselling for two states both AP and Telangana, will you allocate one seat or two seats one to each state?
- A Options given for AP will be considered for AP allotment only and the options given for Telangana will be considered for TELANGANA allotments only. If you are in the merit and you may get one seat to each state and the same will be communicated and placed in the website. You can Report to one of the college as per your choice and the other will be taken as not reported and will be allotted in the subsequent Phases of admission.

Q9 Will there be only one phase of Admission or more number of phases?

A There will be more than one Phase, which will be announced at an appropriate time and the detailed schedule will also be placed in the web. Please watch the website <http://appgmed.apsche.ac.in> for latest updates.

Q10 After receiving the allotment message saying that you have been allotted to so and so college and course, What is that I have to do?

A Download the allotment letter from the website and report to the allotted college as per the schedule given in the allotment letter with all the Original certificates, requisite fee and the Receipt of Certificates issued by HLC. Reporting after due date will not be considered under any circumstances.

Q11 I have been allotted a seat in Phase 1, can I participate in subsequent phases?

A Yes, you can participate in all the other phases as per the schedule but if you get allotted a seat in the other Phase, the seat allotted in Previous phase will automatically be cancelled, you will not have any claim on the previous allotment. Hence, candidates need to be cautious in participating in subsequent phases. if the candidate is satisfied with the allotment in Phase I, he need not participate in subsequent phases.
